My name is Kenny Crump. I am the visionary and founder of Gym Skills and the Kid's Lifestyle Center. I was born and raised in Columbus, OH, blessed to have two hard-working parents that always supported anything I was passionate about.

I was fortunate to find my passion at an early age. I started gymnastics at the age of 4 because I wanted to be a ninja. My first class was at the Linden Recreation Center, a few blocks from my home. It was here that set my foundation as a gymnast. I competed on an all black gymnastics team until I was 9. I outgrew city gymnastics meets and decided to join a club gymnastics team.

I competed in club gymnastics until I was 18. During these years I always felt like I had two lives: my gymnastics life and my real life. Gymnastics life always felt like a fantasy because I got to travel all around the country and compete in the sport I love. Real life, or my "normal" life, was where all the love and heart for my culture was.

Gymnastics gave me the opportunity to see things that I would have never seen. For that I am grateful and thankful to my parents. Gymnastics gave me the confidence to know that there is nothing I could not accomplish. It also made me comfortable to be around all races and genders.

When I was done competing in gymnastics, my father suggested that I get a job as a gymnastics coach at the local parks and rec department. I began coaching at 19 and it never felt like a job.

Born and raised in Columbus, Ohio Proud mother of 4 beautiful children and wife to a loving husband, and a fur baby. Brutus, I started cheer at just three years old, My cheer iourney spans every level, from little league to competitive all star, collegiate and professional. After cheering at The Ohio State University for four years as an undergraduate, I went on to join the coaching staff at North Carolina State as the first non-alumni assistant coach and eventually went on to cheer professionally for the Columbus Destroyers before opening The Cheer Institute in December of 2015.

During my years as an elementary teacher I gained knowledge on how to serve students from all backgrounds and at all learning levels! I took that experience and began expanding my teachings beyond the classroom and into extra curricular activities. I learned from teaching, that the sport could not just be about the training, but the entire athlete as a whole. I truly enjoy serving families across many communities in need, and believes laying a strong foundation is imperative to the continued growth of all athletes.

In just a few short years since its founding, I worked to build The Cheer Institute from a small group of seven students to over one hundred and fifty competitive and recreational athletes and six competition teams. My wide range of experience, wealth of knowledge in the industry, and experienced staff makes my gym to have a great impact on the athletes and families we serve. I work to continually promote being a family centered environment, and structure my efforts around this belief!

Former Ohio State basketball player Ron Lewis has entered the fray as a head coach at the high school basketball level. According to a report from the Columbus Dispatch (subscription may be required), Lewis was elevated to head coach of Worthington Kilbourne after serving as an assistant this past season.

Lewis, a Columbus native and resident of Brittany Hills graduated from Brookhaven high school, originally committed for and played at Bowling Green before transferring to Ohio State for the 2004-2005 season. He quickly displayed a burst and athleticism that made him an integral part of that team, and the one that made a run to the NCAA championship game in 2007.

Lewis is a Proud Father and Husband and is most certainly a pillar in the Community. He continues to give back to our youth through his Performance Academy. Additionally he serves as a Commercial Real Estate Agent creating a Legacy for himself and family.
